

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY

S. P. Parks, of Adair, is here on business today.

Mrs. John Mounts has gone to Tulsa for a visit.

Sam Parks remained last night from Grove.

Robert Lee was in town from Big Cabin last night.

George E. Harris is in the country duck hunting today.

J. C. Barber is here from Bristow on a business visit.

J. H. Blanton was in town this morning from Ketchum.

Col. J. J. Spence, returned from Claremore this morning.

Robert Chamberlin's little girl is reported to have the measles.

John Lucy, sheriff of Ottawa county, is here from Miami.

Attorney J. W. Swartz, of Chelsea, is attending court here.

E. M. Lawrence of Albury is transacting business here today.

J. B. Quigley came up from Tulsa last night on a business visit.

W. E. Clapham is at Miami today looking after mining interests.

A. C. Brewster came up from Pryor Creek last night on business.

J. Raymond Ballard came up from Adair yesterday afternoon on business.

J. A. Veasey, an attorney of Bartlesville, is attending the district court here.

R. J. Ray, of Lawton, is among the throng of visitors in Vinita today.

Miss Margaret Flogue of Bluejacket was in the city yesterday afternoon shopping.

Eugene DeGolyer, of the state geological survey, left last night for his home at Norman.

Misses Maude Hampton and Jessie Yamon of Sapulpa, are in the city today for a visit.

Tonight is the regular meeting night of the Commercial club. A full attendance is desired.

John Ridenhour arrived last night from Belis, Tex., for a visit with his uncle H. F. Ridenhour.

Judge D. W. Henry, of Terre Haute, Ind., returned to this city from Chelsea last night for a short business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Martin were down from Bluejacket today visiting friends and looking after business matters.

The Commercial club hopes to locate a flour mill here within a short time capable of turning out 120 barrels per day.

J. B. Davidson has recently been appointed correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, New York World, Kansas City Journal and Dallas News. Vinita will now get her share of publicity.

It looks very much as if a canning factory employing 40 people will be built here this next spring. This factory will take care of 140 acres of tomatoes, also peaches and berries of all kinds.

J. S. Jones of Milford Kansas would like an opening for a blacksmith and wagon shop. Would prefer the country where he could raise chickens and small produce. Advise secretary of the Commercial club.

Dr. Ed. Brookshire and brother, Marvin of Keifer, are in the city this afternoon.

H. E. Ridenhour will leave tonight for Norman to attend the meeting of the State Sheriffs association, which convenes there tomorrow.

Judge M. E. Fisher, of Jet, Okla., was a pleasant visitor at this office today. He is in this vicinity looking at the land and will probably locate here.

Judge Frear may go to Oklahoma City tonight for a short visit.

Elm creek bridge is in such bad shape that farmers have declared that they will go elsewhere with their produce if not repaired at once. Why don't the persons whose business it is attend to these bridges and roads?

The item that appeared in the Daily Chieftain with reference to the purchase of the Churchill home by L. P. Garrison was somewhat misleading. Mr. Garrison did not dispose of his Wilson street brick block where he is in business and will continue.

The Oklahoma Geological Survey has referred to the secretary of the Commercial club two enquiring concerns in the tile and pottery business seeking a location. The Commercial club will try to locate them at Vinita, owing to our inexhaustible supply of shale and coal.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY

Miss Nannie Garrison spent today in Adair.

Henry Bokelman, of Muskogee is here today.

Joe McCollough was here from Afton today.

E. H. Brady left this morning for a visit at Parsons.

D. M. Tibbets, of Guthrie is here on business.

L. B. Campbell went to Carthage, Mo. last night.

R. Lee Martin was in town last night from Adair.

Judge Brown will go to Claremore to spend Sunday.

Tom Connor returned last night from a business trip to Tulsa.

Sam Still of Ochelata, was here this morning, on business.

T. Wyman Thompson is in town from his farm near Kochan.

Jay Lionberger went to Afton last night to spend Sunday.

A. E. Crover, of Bartlesville, spent this afternoon in this city.

J. H. Kendall came over from Chelsea last night on a business visit.

Henry Vogel, of Muskogee was a business visitor here this morning.

J. H. Russell, of Grinnell, Ia., is spending a few days in Vinita.

A. L. McQuestion, of Comanche, Okla., is a business visitor in Vinita.

Misses Ada and Evelyn Painter of Adair were shopping here today.

J. H. Blanton was in town this morning from Ketchum.

Col. J. J. Spence, returned from Claremore this morning.

Robert Chamberlin's little girl is reported to have the measles.

John Lucy, sheriff of Ottawa county, is here from Miami.

Attorney J. W. Swartz, of Chelsea, is attending court here.

E. M. Lawrence of Albury is transacting business here today.

J. B. Quigley came up from Tulsa last night on a business visit.

W. E. Clapham is at Miami today looking after mining interests.

A. C. Brewster came up from Pryor Creek last night on business.

J. Raymond Ballard came up from Adair yesterday afternoon on business.

J. A. Veasey, an attorney of Bartlesville, is attending the district court here.

R. J. Ray, of Lawton, is among the throng of visitors in Vinita today.

Miss Margaret Flogue of Bluejacket was in the city yesterday afternoon shopping.

Eugene DeGolyer, of the state geological survey, left last night for his home at Norman.

Misses Maude Hampton and Jessie Yamon of Sapulpa, are in the city today for a visit.

Tonight is the regular meeting night of the Commercial club. A full attendance is desired.

John Ridenhour arrived last night from Belis, Tex., for a visit with his uncle H. F. Ridenhour.

Judge D. W. Henry, of Terre Haute, Ind., returned to this city from Chelsea last night for a short business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Martin were down from Bluejacket today visiting friends and looking after business matters.

The Commercial club hopes to locate a flour mill here within a short time capable of turning out 120 barrels per day.

J. B. Davidson has recently been appointed correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, New York World, Kansas City Journal and Dallas News. Vinita will now get her share of publicity.

It looks very much as if a canning factory employing 40 people will be built here this next spring. This factory will take care of 140 acres of tomatoes, also peaches and berries of all kinds.

J. S. Jones of Milford Kansas would like an opening for a blacksmith and wagon shop. Would prefer the country where he could raise chickens and small produce. Advise secretary of the Commercial club.

Dr. Ed. Brookshire and brother, Marvin of Keifer, are in the city this afternoon.

H. E. Ridenhour will leave tonight for Norman to attend the meeting of the State Sheriffs association, which convenes there tomorrow.

Judge M. E. Fisher, of Jet, Okla., was a pleasant visitor at this office today. He is in this vicinity looking at the land and will probably locate here.

Judge Frear may go to Oklahoma City tonight for a short visit.

Elm creek bridge is in such bad shape that farmers have declared that they will go elsewhere with their produce if not repaired at once. Why don't the persons whose business it is attend to these bridges and roads?

The item that appeared in the Daily Chieftain with reference to the purchase of the Churchill home by L. P. Garrison was somewhat misleading. Mr. Garrison did not dispose of his Wilson street brick block where he is in business and will continue.

Henry Fields, colored, was arrested this morning on a charge of burglarizing the kitchen of the Cobb hotel. Chief of Police Lee Webb made the arrest and turned him over to the sheriff.

Miss John Cheutau is expected home from McAlester tomorrow. She has been there attending her step-daughter Mrs. T. Arrington, who has been quite sick, but is now much improved.

Vinita Lodge number 18 of the I. O. O. F. has elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Noble Grand, J. E. Underwood; Vice Grand, J. R. Fisher; Recording Secretary, George E. Harris; Financial Secretary, George E. Davis; Treasurer, F. J. Barrett; Trustee, A. G. McCullough.

W. M. Malone, who recently moved to Vinita from Eureka Springs, heard Rev. Jno. Redding, deliver his famous lecture "Sally and I" and says it was the most entertaining lecture he had ever heard. If Rev. Redding delivers that lecture here no one can afford to miss it. For wit, pathos and entertainment, there is no lecture given on the platform today that equals that of Rev. Redding's "Sally and I."

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY

Lake Sixkiller is here from Afton.

H. O. Bland is here from Afton today.

M. V. Holbert came over from Chelsea last night.

C. H. Tinker, of Grove is here on a business visit.

C. C. Roberts went west on the fast mail today.

Van Chandler spent Sunday in the Duck creek country.

Robert Lee was up from Big Cabin to spend Sunday.

J. P. Lively and wife arrived last night from Ochelata.

John Spalding was over from Chelsea to spend Sunday.

Bob Price and S. Kelley were here from Afton today.

Geo. L. Marquess, of Claremore, was here this morning.

Attorney A. A. Brown is at Pryor Creek on business today.

J. P. Thompson, of Afton is in the city on business today.

Paul Clinton, of Tulsa, visited friends here over Sunday.

Harry Swartz spent Sunday with his brother at Chelsea.

Lou Connor returned last night from a business trip to Tulsa.

Sam Still of Ochelata, was here this morning, on business.

T. Wyman Thompson is in town from his farm near Kochan.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY

Miss Nannie Garrison spent today in Adair.

Henry Bokelman, of Muskogee is here today.

Joe McCollough was here from Afton today.

E. H. Brady left this morning for a visit at Parsons.

D. M. Tibbets, of Guthrie is here on business.

L. B. Campbell went to Carthage, Mo. last night.

R. Lee Martin was in town last night from Adair.

Judge Brown will go to Claremore to spend Sunday.

Tom Connor returned last night from a business trip to Tulsa.

Sam Still of Ochelata, was here this morning, on business.

T. Wyman Thompson is in town from his farm near Kochan.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY

S. P. Parks, of Adair, is here on business today.

Mrs. John Mounts has gone to Tulsa for a visit.

Sam Parks remained last night from Grove.

Robert Lee was in town from Big Cabin last night.

George E. Harris is in the country duck hunting today.

J. C. Barber is here from Bristow on a business visit.

J. H. Blanton was in town this morning from Ketchum.

Col. J. J. Spence, returned from Claremore this morning.

Robert Chamberlin's little girl is reported to have the measles.

John Lucy, sheriff of Ottawa county, is here from Miami.

Attorney J. W. Swartz, of Chelsea, is attending court here.

E. M. Lawrence of Albury is transacting business here today.

J. B. Quigley came up from Tulsa last night on a business visit.

W. E. Clapham is at Miami today looking after mining interests.

A. C. Brewster came up from Pryor Creek last night on business.

J. Raymond Ballard came up from Adair yesterday afternoon on business.

J. A. Veasey, an attorney of Bartlesville, is attending the district court here.

R. J. Ray, of Lawton, is among the throng of visitors in Vinita today.

Miss Margaret Flogue of Bluejacket was in the city yesterday afternoon shopping.

Eugene DeGolyer, of the state geological survey, left last night for his home at Norman.

Misses Maude Hampton and Jessie Yamon of Sapulpa, are in the city today for a visit.

John Lucy, sheriff of Ottawa county, is here from Miami.

Attorney J. W. Swartz, of Chelsea, is attending court here.

E. M. Lawrence of Albury is transacting business here today.

J. B. Quigley came up from Tulsa last night on a business visit.

W. E. Clapham is at Miami today looking after mining interests.

A. C. Brewster came up from Pryor Creek last night on business.

J. Raymond Ballard came up from Adair yesterday afternoon on business.

J. A. Veasey, an attorney of Bartlesville, is attending the district court here.

R. J. Ray, of Lawton, is among the throng of visitors in Vinita today.

Miss Margaret Flogue of Bluejacket was in the city yesterday afternoon shopping.